Dear Ms. Bacon,

This letter is intended to address the Requests for Additional Information issued by the Federal Election Commission on March 8, 2007.

Charles Boustany Jr. MD for Congress, Inc. has implemented several organizational changes that we believe will improve our process and procedures, and guard against future errors. Our Committee takes very seriously the rules and regulations of the Commission, and has demonstrated immediate corrective action.

Prior to receiving the FEC letters referenced above, the Committee deemed it necessary to take a proactive approach on matters of compliance. In February, the Committee appointed a new bookkeeper and compliance consultant, who is trained in the area of federal election law. This entity will assist the Committee in achieving full compliance. We have amended our Statement of Organization to reflect this corrective action.

In addition, the Committee has amended all FEC reports beginning with the 2006 October Quarterly through the Year End. We have corrected the Column B Summary Page information, which was caused by two duplicate disbursement entries made after the close of books for the last report. Our compliance consultant has helped us to correct the purpose of disbursement descriptions on Schedule B as well.

It has always been our policy to demonstrate best efforts when obtaining employer and occupation information from contributors. We have Information Requested Letters on file for each contributor whose disclosure information was missing in the 30-Day Post General Report. The Committee, however, experienced a low return rate on this particular solicitation.

Since our candidate did not participate in a run-off election, the Committee refunded all Runoff-2006 funds. The majority of those contributions were refunded on 12/28/2006. The remainder was remitted on January 5, 2007, thus placing them in the upcoming April Quarterly Report, but within the sixty day window after the 2006 General Election.

Finally, there are two discrepancies for which the Committee deeply regrets. One individual contribution was reported incorrectly. The donor in question intended for his $5000 contribution to be designated toward sequential elections, but the full amount was designated to the Primary 2008 election only. The Committee has since amended the Year End report to reflect the proper designation.
